

I am in favor of this proposal. Having tuned across these sub-bands numerous times and hearing very few or no signals, I feel that allowing the Novice-Technician sub-bands to continue is a waste of valuable radio spectrum resources.

Voluntary Band-plans should however identify a segment or segments where one would be able to tune for CW Operaton, to locate other stations, or to listen for Code Copying practice.